Dear

Let Our Kids Be Kids

My child is in school today but I want you to know that I too support teachers who want the very best for the years my child spends in their early education.

As you are aware many fellow parents across the country are keeping their children off school today as part of the Let Our Kids Be Kids campaign against SAT exams and a dulled down, Ofsted driven curriculum.

The key message of the campaign is that this is NOT against our school - it is a direct message to Nicky Morgan, Education Secretary that parents have had enough of SATs testing and Ofsted driven teaching. It is a show of support to heads and teachers everywhere that they will have overwhelming parental enthusiasm for a boycott of SATS and a return to a curriculum based on the joy and wonder of learning. It is a campaign to Let Our Kids Be Kids again.

Thank you for all that you have done to ensure my child is as happy as possible during this difficult time in the teaching profession. I understand the pressure that you face from external bodies and want you to know that you have my support and gratitude.

Thank you.
